

Creative Exploration

What I've decided on the format for my final project is to be writing and to include a few pictures of my roommates under their sections of the page. The reason I decided to do this is because it's something that I am comfortable with, and I feel like writing is the way I can give my all when it comes to this. I know that might be a little easy and to be honest it is, but I would rather do something that I know I can do at the moment than something I have no knowledge of.

Writing is something that gives people the easiest way to figure out the page and information, even a small article can give you a lot of information about something even if it's short. In my final I'm not going to ramble on about things that don't matter to the topic, it'll get straight to the point, and it'll look nice while the people read it. It's something that I'm able to do more easily and simple than hard and complicated, it also gives me a little more freedom since I just have to write and I am able to make the sections as long as I want some might be longer than others, some might be shorter than others, even if that's the case, the reason they would be like that is because I was able to put what I wanted people to know in those sections, I have the creative freedom there no one else.
